Message from the Chair

This year has been marked by difficulty but also stories of resilience. We have all had to adapt to a new normal, upskill in technology, and consider ways of making a difference for the better in our lives and careers.

I believe I have been the first IMA Chair to run all board and committee meetings virtually, and it is a credit to our volunteers and members that we collaborated virtually so seamlessly.

While IMA is a community of talented management accountants, this year, I saw that we are so much more. We are people who never hesitate to help those in need, whether it is a colleague struggling with a work-life balance issue or a student who is eager to begin their career but unsure of how to begin.

From virtual Student Leadership Conferences to our Annual Meeting, IMA made sure it could be there for its members at a time when they all faced unprecedented levels of uncertainty.

Paul E. Juras, Ph.D., CMA, CSCA, CPA
IMA Chair 2020-2021
The Building Blocks of Trust

Mission

To provide a forum for research, practice development, education, knowledge sharing, and advocacy of the highest ethical and best business practices in management accounting and finance.

Vision

To be the leading resource for developing, certifying, connecting, and supporting the world’s best accountants and financial professionals in business.

Core Values

- Respect for the Individual
- Teaming to Achieve
- Passion for Serving Members
- Highest Standards of Integrity and Trust
- Innovation and Continuous Improvement

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Commitment

Fundamental to our core values, IMA is committed to creating, nurturing, and advocating for a diverse, equitable, and inclusive member community, accounting and finance profession, and organizational workplace.

Trust that our members, employees, partners, and society can count on.
IMA’s Foundation in Trust

• Members of IMA’s Committee on Ethics (Susan E. Bos and Curtis C. Verschoor) have been recognized by Trust Across America as Thought Leaders in Trust

• IMA President and CEO Jeff Thomson is a Trust Across America Lifetime Achievement recipient

• All IMA members must comply with the IMA Statement of Ethical Professional Practice

• IMA offers the IMA Ethics Series learning courses free to members

• The IMA Ethics Helpline serves as a resource for members experiencing ethical dilemmas

IMA recognizes Curt Verschoor’s lasting impact on ethics training and education. Curt was a longtime member of IMA’s Committee on Ethics, editor of the Strategic Finance Ethics column for 20 years, and a significant contributor to the development and revisions of the IMA Statement of Ethical Professional Practice.
IMA’s Strategic Goals for Long-Term Health of the Organization

Win
Win additional market share by growing the CMA program in the U.S. and globally.

Drive
Drive member retention and loyalty in all regions by delivering tangible value through relevant programs, products, and services.

Raise
Raise awareness in the Student and Academic market to expand the membership pipeline and reach CMA-certified young professionals of tomorrow.

Master
Master technology that directly impacts IMA members and our value proposition.

Prepare
Prepare for an unpredictable future by investing in capabilities that support agility and resilience.
Highlights from Fiscal Year 2021: A Healthy Organization with Resources to Invest in Member Benefits

- U.S. GAAP vs IFRS: Nonfinancial Assets
- Cybersecurity Risk and Mitigation
- Ethics in the Digital Age
Virtual Events with a Global Reach

Three-day virtual (and first ever) Annual Conference & Expo with 53 sessions (attracted 1,000+ registrants from 36 countries).

This special one-day virtual event provided members with a way to earn continuing professional education (CPE) while learning from experts in the fields of finance and accounting.

For the second year in a row, IMA’s Annual Meeting of Members was offered virtually (at two different times in the day) to ensure greater inclusion of our global membership. This will be offered virtually moving forward.
Virtual Student Leadership Conference

- More than 1,000 registrants from nearly 300 schools around the world attended.
- Students heard advice on leadership from Fortune 500 CEO David Burritt, CMA, of U.S. Steel Corporation, and Unmuted CEO, Rachel Druckenmiller.
- Students connected with companies for potential internships and full-time positions, as well as learned about graduate school opportunities and exam preparation offerings at a Virtual Career Expo.

Attendees shared their experience attending the event live on Instagram and Twitter using the hashtag #virtualslc20
Virtual Women’s Leadership Summits

Three virtual Women’s Leadership Summits were held during fiscal year 2021 in the U.S., Europe, and the Middle East. These summits enabled professionals from around the globe to take part in sessions on topics such as transformative leadership, emotional intelligence, and ethics. They also received the opportunity to network with peers and share career advice.
Regional Educational Highlights: China

In China, 197 eLearning courses were offered in fiscal year 2021.

In addition, the China Education Team delivered 11 new, well-received WeChat courses (for a total of 50) and 97 information sessions on TikTok.

As COVID restrictions lifted, the team also worked with the approved review course providers to offer 54 in-person events and an additional eight events with the Elite clubs.
Forbes CFO Dialogues held in January, March, and June featured more than 13 CFOs discussing topics like “How CFOs are becoming game changers in the new world.”

Member Testimonials

“The Mid-America Council just concluded its virtual spring conference today. I just wanted you to know that Amy Renner did a fantastic job coordinating this event. We will be good to go on our own for the next webcast (though we are hoping to do our next conference in person).”

“Well presented and optimized frontline learning [IMA ethics course]. Also, the examples were very relevant ... ethical decisions that happen in the real world.”

“The interactive approach kept me engaged throughout the [RPA] course. Also, it was a fun way of learning!”

“...Congratulations on putting together such a fabulous conference [ACE2021]. This was one of the best-run virtual conferences I have attended with great content...”

“The content [Data Analytics & Visualization Course] was excellent. The tools for learning were very, very effective - with enough variety and examples to keep the sessions interactive and interesting.”

Sustainable Business Management: Industry-Leading Research, Thought Leadership, and Advocacy

IMA’s portfolio of sustainability resources are designed with the management accountant in mind.

• “CFO as Value Creator—Finance Function Leadership in the Integrated Enterprise” whitepaper and C-Suite Report, “Finance Function Partnering for the Integration of Sustainability in Business”
• Digital Transformation Brief becomes the basis for digital reporting recommendations by the European Commission

Advocacy on behalf of the management accounting profession while regulators and standard-setters, such as the SEC and IFRS Foundation, develop new structures for sustainable business reporting.
A comprehensive suite of resources on the use of technology in the profession, and agility in finance’s operational delivery were produced during fiscal year 2021.

IMA’s Technology Solutions and Practices Committee (TSPC) held three global webinars during the fiscal year and provided comments to COSO on technology-related topics. TSPC members also offered insight through contributed articles in Strategic Finance.
Growing Number of Strategic Partnerships
DE&I Partners and Contributors

Our DE&I partners and contributors share the same commitment as we do to ensuring members of underrepresented populations have the same opportunities for advancement in the management accounting profession.

Partners
- International Federation of Accountants (IFAC)
- California Society of CPAs (CalCPA)

Contributors
- National Society of Black CPAs
- National Association of Black Accountants (NABA, INC.)
- The Association for Latino Professionals for America (ALPFA)
- PhD Project
Our sustainability contributors play a critical role in ensuring IMA is up-to-date on the latest developments in sustainable business information and management.

IMA considers sustainability both an ethical and financial imperative and champions the adoption of sustainability standards and measures for practitioners.

We are engaging with these organizations for the purpose of advocacy - to advance the perspective of management accountants in the new paradigms around sustainable business management and reporting.

- The Impact Management Project
- Sustainability Accounting Standards Board (SASB) and the International Integrated Reporting Council (IIRC) recently merged into the Value Reporting Foundation
- The Climate Disclosure Standards Board
- World Business Council for Sustainable Development
- The European Financial Reporting Advisory Group and the Project Task Force, both reporting to the European Commission
Other Collaborations

• IMA is a founding member of the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO) and a member of the International Federation of Accountants (IFAC).

• This fiscal year, Deloitte’s Center for Controllership and IMA commenced a joint research project on “The Future of Controllership.”

• IMA and the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA) jointly produce a quarterly Global Economic Conditions Survey (the largest survey of its kind canvassing CFOs), which captures sentiment around the state of the global economy.

• IMA partners with EMEA Recruitment, a specialist in international finance and accounting job placement, to offer resources and best practices in interviewing and engaging with employers.
New IMA Volunteer Governance Framework to Better Reflect “The Voice of the Member”

• In fiscal year 2021, IMA implemented a new governance, planning, and implementation framework for volunteers, with the aim of better reflecting “the voice of the member.”

• This new structure enables more communication from committees to the Global Board of Directors, thereby enhancing IMA’s overall governance.

• Through a new Component Engagement Roundtable, best practices in communication, and IMA resources can be shared more efficiently between chapters and councils.

The IMA Committee structure was revised to better meet the needs of the global environment, with Regional Advisory Committees (RACs) providing direct feedback to the Global Markets Committee (GMC) to align with our strategic planning.
IMA Financial Reporting Committee (FRC) Relationships

Through FRC, we continue to maintain strong, direct connections with regulators and standard-setting organizations, including:

- U.S. Securities & Exchange Commission (SEC), Division of Corporation Finance, Office of the Chief Accountant
- U.S. Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (PCAOB)
- Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB)
- International Financial Reporting Standards Foundation (IFRS)
- International Accounting Standards Board (IASB)

Some of FRC’s members also sit on the FASB’s Financial Accounting Standards Advisory Council and the FASB’s Emerging Issues Task Force.
Through IMA’s Small Business Committee (SBC), we furthered our relationship with FASB.

Some of SBC’s members sit on FASB’s Small Business Advisory Council.

Moreover, the SBC has a developing relationship with the SEC’s Office of the Advocate for Small Business Capital Formation.

SBC collaborates with IMA Research and Thought Leadership to provide guidance on ongoing issues related to COVID. The Emerging Issues subcommittee is committed to additional focus and guidance on:
- Government support to small businesses
- Workforce shortages
- Supply chain disruptions
Teaming with the Corporate Sector

Strategic Partnership with Becker to Offer Enhanced CMA Review Experience

Becker is a global leader in certification, exam prep, and professional education. In partnership with IMA, Becker developed and implemented an enhanced CMA exam review experience with:

- New quality content
- An intuitive user experience
- Industry-leading instruction
- Personalized learning utilizing a state-of-the-art AI platform
IMA Student Ambassadors and Campus Influencer Volunteers Connect IMA to Students

IMA’s 70 active Student Ambassadors at 56 schools represent IMA on campus.

IMA Student Ambassadors demonstrate leadership and entrepreneurial skills by supporting future accounting and finance professionals as well as educating their student peers and academic faculty about IMA resources and the CMA program.

More than 300 IMA members participate in the Campus Influencers program. These members are presenting information to students about career paths in management accounting, the benefits of belonging to IMA, and the CMA certification.
Strengthening Our Relationships with Academia

• IMA welcomed a new Professor-in-Residence, Laurie Burney, Ph.D., CMA, CSCA, and Associate Professor of Accounting and holder of the J.E. Bush Professorship in Accounting at Baylor University.

• Burney liaises between IMA and university communities, helping to grow the next generation of accountants and expand the profession as a whole.

• To strengthen our connection with academia, IMA hosted a number of Faculty Fridays, one-hour educational webinars targeted to faculty to provide timely tools, tips, and best practices for teaching relevant, real-world topics in the classroom.

• We also hosted a number of virtual Academic Dinners so faculty can share how they use IMA resources in the classroom and learn how to enhance their curriculum with IMA resources.

Members of IMA’s Component Engagement Roundtable Say “Thank You”

- IMA’s 300+ chapters and councils around the world bring IMA’s mission of advancing the management accounting profession to life.

- They are composed of local volunteers committed to empowering IMA members in their community and beyond.

- The work of IMA’s chapters and councils is so critical to the organization that IMA implemented an IMA Component Engagement Roundtable (ICER).

- ICER exists to assist chapters and councils in their work supporting and advancing management accounting knowledge in their local communities. This includes carrying out training programs and activities for local IMA members and professionals, to help build and sustain the IMA volunteer leadership pipeline into the future, through engagement opportunities.

ICER created a special “thank you” video to thank chapters and councils for all their hard work during the COVID-19 pandemic.
The CMA Scholarship Offers Ways to Strengthen Careers and Confidence

“The CMA scholarship provided me with the materials necessary to prepare for and pass both parts of my CMA in less than six months! I am so grateful to have been given the opportunity to study and take the exams at no cost. Having this globally recognized certification will only boost the trajectory of my career!”

Madison Lynn works as an Engagement Financial Advisor for Deloitte. She received her BA in accounting in 2020 and her Master of Accounting (MAcc) in 2021 from Saint Leo University.

“Passing both parts of the CMA exam gave me the confidence to leverage experience with financial concepts in interviews and negotiations. It has opened up doors to careers outside of typical accounting roles and has drawn interest from top companies.”

Nick Pereira currently works as a Fund Accounting Analyst at Tesla. He graduated from Brigham Young University in 2021.
Students Solve Real-World Problems in IMA’s Global Student Case Competition

IMA’s Century Scholarship Winner

IMA’s Century Scholarship recognizes an active IMA student member who is passionate about volunteering and being a leader in the management accounting profession. Recipients receive an award of $7,500 and a CMA scholarship.

This year’s recipient, Jarom Hyde, shared the impact this scholarship has had on his career development:

“Receiving the Century Scholarship meant I did not have to work this semester. The extra time to network has helped me land my current internship!”

Jarom Hyde is currently pursuing his master’s degree in Accounting at the Marriott School of Business, Brigham Young University, and is the 2021 recipient of IMA’s Century Scholarship.
The Lifetime Achievement Award recognizes an IMA member who has demonstrated sustainable, extraordinary leadership and dedication to IMA over a lifetime of service.

“IMA is a great way for you to express your passion for your professional life. My advice, ‘Get EXCITED about management accounting.’”

Message from the President and CEO

Jeff Thomson, CMA, CSCA, CAE
IMA President and CEO
This past year, IMA took on the dual role of short-term risk manager and long-term strategic planner, investing in resources for members to help them through the pandemic (e.g., free online courses comprising a rich array of educational opportunities delivered virtually) while continuing to invest in the long-term success of our members.

I couldn’t be more proud of the way IMA employees, volunteers, and our members demonstrated courage, agility, and resiliency in this time of great uncertainty and disruption. As organizations reconfigure themselves for a new normal that is constantly evolving, I am confident the entire IMA community will meet the multitude of challenges with courage, care, and conviction of purpose.

I especially want to thank our 364 chapters and councils, led by IMA volunteers, for offering local support to members at a time when they needed it the most. These volunteers are the lifeblood of IMA, its heart and soul, and make it possible for IMA members to network, upskill, and stay connected.

I have tremendous optimism about the future because I know our members are steering their organizations in the right direction and helping their teams adapt to the volatile and uncertain global environment that we all face.

I am proud to be your CEO and welcome your feedback.

Jeff Thomson, CMA, CSCA, CAE
